Nanimarquina launches a new line of poufs in its Wabisabi collection

The new Wabi Sabi poufs, inspired by the beauty of imperfection and nature, are created to expand the iconic Wabisabi rug collection. This new addition aims to bring a touch of serenity and elegance to spaces, while maintaining the essence of the Japanese Wabi-sabi philosophy, which celebrates imperfection, transience, and the beauty of nature.

The poufs are characterized by their timeless design, organic texture, and soft yet contrasting tones that evoke the harmony of simplicity. Made from 100% New Zealand wool, these decorative accessories not only offer comfort and functionality but also serve as a central piece in the decoration of spaces.

Available in 3 sizes suitable for complementing any type of space, the Wabisabi poufs have been created to become the perfect complement to add volume and warmth to interiors.

The piece successfully brings together two close designers: on one side, Nani Marquina, who designed the original patterns, and on the other, Marcos Catalán, a designer and architect who added volume to the collection.

Available in 3 sizes and 2 colour combinations.
