

AMITY HOME EXPANDS DESIGN POSSIBILITIES

Amity Home, known for its extensive selection of stocked luxury bedding and textiles, is expanding its offerings with the launch of its Special Order Bedding & Curtain Program. This new initiative provides designers and retailers with access to an extended range of colors and fabrics in 18 of Amity’s best-selling styles, allowing for greater flexibility in sourcing the perfect pieces for any project.

While Amity Home has long been a go-to source for quick-ship bedding and curtain panels, this program opens up even more possibilities. Each selected style will be available in up to 12 different fabrics, giving designers the ability to work with options that feel fresh and unique—without the constraints of minimums or long production times. Special orders will ship within eight weeks, ensuring a seamless blend of variety and efficiency.

“This program is perfect for the designer who is always looking for something a bit different than what is available in the wider market,” says Susan Lynch Scranton, Design Director at Amity Home. “We’re excited to offer more choices in our most popular collections while maintaining the quality and craftsmanship Amity is known for.” For example, the Aurora quilt, a recent runaway hit, is currently stocked in three rich tones of rayon velvet. Through the Special Order Program, it will now be available in 12 velvets, including lighter options like Ivory and Oyster, or even the dorm fan-favorite Petal Pink. This expansion allows designers to create even more customized looks while still enjoying the luxurious textures and craftsmanship that define Amity Home.

The Special Order Bedding & Curtain Program will make its official debut at the April 2025 High Point Market, where attendees can explore the expanded offerings firsthand. The program will then go live online in May 2025, making it even easier for designers and retailers to access these exclusive options.

With an extensive library of stocked styles for immediate shipment and now a special order solution for expanded color and fabric options, Amity Home continues to be a trusted partner for the design community—offering both versatility and timeless elegance for every space.
