

AMITY HOME, COVERS BROWN

Amity Home has long understood the timeless appeal of earth-inspired hues, and as brown solidifies its place as the must-have neutral of 2024, the brand’s commitment to natural palettes takes center stage. Recognizing this shift early on, Amity has spent the past two years thoughtfully integrating warm, grounding brown tones into its collections—an approach that now feels more relevant than ever.

From the sun-washed softness of wheat to the rich depth of tobacco and the umami warmth of woodland mushrooms, Amity Home’s latest designs honor the nuanced beauty of brown. These textiles balance tradition with modernity, offering refined yet approachable pieces that seamlessly complement both contemporary and classic interiors. With PANTONE’s recent announcement of 17-1230 Mocha Mousse as the 2025 Color of the Year, brown’s influence continues to grow, reinforcing its status as a versatile, sophisticated foundation in design.

No matter the space, Amity has you covered—floor to ceiling. Brown’s rich, inviting tones are thoughtfully woven across all product categories, from sumptuously layered bedding and textured area rugs to elegant curtain panels, accents, and tabletop pieces. This cohesive approach allows for effortless styling, ensuring a warm and harmonious aesthetic throughout the home.

Amity Home’s curated layering of brown undertones reflects its ongoing dedication to craftsmanship, authenticity, and effortless elegance. Whether styled as a statement or blended with other natural hues, these collections invite warmth and depth into any space. As brown takes its rightful place as the defining neutral of the moment, Amity Home remains at the forefront, delivering heirloom-quality textiles that celebrate the enduring beauty of this rich, organic palette.
