John-Richard Unveils One-of-a-Kind Introductions at Spring 2025 High Point Market

HIGH POINT, NC, [April 2025] – John-Richard debuts its Spring 2025 collection at High Point Market, spotlighting individuality and craftsmanship across lighting, wall decor, accessories, and furniture. Each offering presents fresh perspective and distinctive artistry, designed to stand apart in the marketplace.

At the core of this season's line is a celebration of intricate artistry and material exploration. Bench-made pieces that showcase the skill of master craftsmen, beautiful hand-blown glass sculptures, meticulous gilding, and inventive finish work that result in truly unique designs. Rather than opting for simplicity or sameness, the brand values character, precision, and a hands-on approach. Rejecting uniformity, the collection embraces bold character and one-of-a-kind detail.

Rooted in diverse artistic backgrounds and natural inspirations, the collection features collaborations with a range of designers. Among them is abstract artist Carol Benson-Cobb, whose aesthetic is reflected in select furniture pieces that seamlessly merge art and design. New to the Spring line is contemporary artist Kate DeOssie, whose series of dynamic abstract prints evokes natural scenes through an expressive lens — an ideal fit with the brand's creative vision.

Each new introduction showcases John-Richard's pursuit of innovation, artistic expression, and enduring craftsmanship.
