

40 years of passion, work and success

THE STORY OF ONE SURNAME

Jan Szynaka

40 Years of Experience of Jan Szynaka – A Foundation for Stable Partnerships

Forty years of experience in managing a manufacturing enterprise is not only an impressive milestone, but above all a tangible value for business partners. The professional journey of President Jan Szynaka is a clear example of a consistently developed organization, which—thanks to hard work and a well-defined vision—he transformed, together with his wife Alina, from a small family workshop inherited from his father into one of Europe's leading furniture manufacturers.

From the very beginning of his career, Jan Szynaka has focused on long-term strategy, continuous investment in modern technologies, and building strong, lasting relationships with business partners. Today, these efforts have resulted in a company equipped with modern production facilities, advanced logistics infrastructure, and extensive experience in serving international markets. For clients, this translates primarily into stability of cooperation. Decades of consistent leadership ensure predictable processes, continuity of supply, and the ability to execute long-term contracts. In a rapidly changing market environment, this significantly reduces operational risk for business partners.

Quality remains a core pillar of the company's operations. Production based on European standards, the use of carefully selected materials—including high-grade wood—and rigorous quality control ensure that the products meet the expectations of even the most demanding markets. For distributors and retail chains, this means not only an attractive product offering, but also reduced costs related to claims and after-sales service.

Equally important is the company's approach to business relationships. A strategy based on partnership rather than transactions ensures long-term cooperation. Partners can rely on support, understanding of local market specifics, and operational flexibility.

Today, 40 years of Jan Szynaka's professional career represent not only a personal success story, but above all a solid foundation for further B2B cooperation. For companies seeking a reliable partner, this means the opportunity to grow their business based on experience, stability, and proven operational standards—validated by long-term relationships with key clients worldwide.