Cereria Mollá 1899 Returns to High Point with Oud & Leather and New Holiday Collection

-Spanish Artisanal Fragrance House Expands Its Collection with a Bold New Holiday Collection-

Fort Lauderdale, FL – March 2026 – Cereria Mollá 1899, the Spanish artisanal candle and fragrance house with over 125 years of heritage, returns to High Point Market this spring with a preview of its Holiday Collection, alongside the brand's newest bold signature fragrance, Oud & Leather. Visitors can experience the collection along with Cereria Mollá's full line of handcrafted home fragrances at Booth G-6008 in the Salon Suites at Market Square, April 25-29, 2026.

"We are delighted to return to High Point Market, where we can continue sharing Cereria Mollá's tradition of craftsmanship with the design community," says Patrick Goguillon, Co-Founder of European Scents, the exclusive U.S. distributor of Cereria Mollá. "From festive holiday fragrances to the depth and sophistication of Oud & Leather, these collections reflect the warmth, elegance, and artistry that define Cereria Mollá."

At Spring High Point Market, Cereria Mollá will showcase its Holiday Collection, returning in October 2026. The seasonal assortment offers retailers and designers an early opportunity to preview festive fragrances designed to capture the warmth and nostalgia of the holiday season, including a new Salted Caramel scent, offering a rich and indulgent addition to the collection, and a new Large Format candle option.

The current collection includes Gingerbread Madeleine, a sweet and spiced fragrance that blends citrus and warm spices with notes of icing sugar, cinnamon, and creamy meringue milk, finished with comforting hints of vanilla and sponge cake. Also featured is Mountain Pine, a fresh, forest-inspired fragrance combining crisp pine and herbal notes with touches of apple and raspberry over a soft musk base.

Both fragrances are presented in the 8 oz Classic Candle, with an MSRP of $49.95, the 21 oz XL Candle with an MSRP of $99.45, and a votive duo featuring both fragrances with an MSRP of $49.95. This year, highly requested Reed Diffusers and our iconic 7.7 LB XXL Candles will be joining the collection.

Cereria Mollá will also highlight its newest, Oud & Leather - a fragrance that evokes elegance and luxury through the deep, mystical character of oud balanced with the soft, velvety intensity of leather. Notes of clove, incense, and white sandalwood create a luminous opening, while ambergris, labdanum, and patchouli form a rich heart. A grounding base of oud, cedarwood, and leather completes the fragrance, resulting in a composition that is both sophisticated and inviting.

Each Cereria Mollá candle is handmade using soy wax, essential oil fragrances, and 100% organic cotton wicks to ensure a clean, long-lasting burn. Every piece is presented in artisanal glass vases that are individually crafted and hand-painted, underscoring the brand's dedication to detail and tradition. The fragrance is available across the full Cereria Mollá assortment, including five candle sizes ranging from votive to the iconic 15-lb., 7-wick design, four reed diffuser sizes with matching refills, as well as the Home & Textile Spray and Room & Body Spray. Pricing remains consistent with the brand's existing collection.

With more than a century of heritage, Cereria Mollá continues to set the standard in luxury fragrance through its commitment to quality, craftsmanship, and tradition. Attendees at High Point Market are invited to discover the full range of fragrances at Booth G-6008, Salon Suites at Market Square.
