“Copeland Furniture Blends Transitional Warmth and Modern Precision at Spring High Point Market”

High Point, NC – At the Spring 2026 High Point Market, Copeland Furniture is introducing new collections pairing natural materials with a minimalist design aesthetic to create versatile, sustainable furniture that feels at home in any space.

Spring 2026 Introductions

- The Whitney Collection: Defined by a contoured silhouette and flush joints throughout, this new seating line combines advanced CNC technology with traditional craftsmanship for a sophisticated modern aesthetic. The Lounge Chair and Ottoman are crafted from domestically sourced black walnut with a GREENGUARD certified natural walnut finish. Upholstery options include over 20 in-house fabrics, select Sunbrella collections, and COM.

- Baton Dining Tables: Following the success of the Baton Dining Chair, design partner Marc Boudreau has introduced complementary extension and drop-leaf tables. The tables carry over the chair's clean-line aesthetic and offer a contemporary footprint tailored for flexible living. They are available in domestically sourced walnut, cherry, and oak.

- Additional Introductions: Boudreau has also expanded the Odin home office line with the addition of a stationary desk. The new design preserves the stylish and functional top while swapping the sit-stand mechanism for angular wooden sled-style legs.
